

SUPERVISOR'S ASSOCIATION IRELAND

SAI

Background

A representative group of supervisor's met on the 14th of June 2005 in University College Dublin in response to a felt need to establish an association for Supervisory Practice across various professions.

AIMS AND OBJECTIVES

- Promote an inclusive, adult educational model of supervisory practice across contexts
- Establish a self-governing professional organisation, which promotes a Code of Ethics and Standards amongst its members
- Regulate/Develop high standards of practice amongst its members who are supervisors/trainers

AIMS AND OBJECTIVES

- Respond to ongoing developmental needs and research within the area of Supervisory practice through support, networking, workshops, conferences and publications
- Establish clear criteria for accreditation of supervisors and Supervisory Training Programmes

Views supervision as an educational process which seeks to transform and empower supervisees/supervisors and their praxis.

Launch in May 2006 with Dr Margaret Benefiel and Dr Vincent Maloney

Inaugural Conference on November 25th 2006 keynote speakers: Dr Michael Carroll and

Dr Wolfgang Knopf

ANSE President ,

“Supervision: Creating the Emerging Future”

Master class

April 14th 2007 with

Brigid Proctor

“ To speak or not to speak” exploring the unspoken in supervision

The Ethics Committee

drafting a Code of Ethics

The Membership committee drafting Criteria for Accreditation

A National Directory of supervisors has been developed

Supervisors Association of Ireland
website

Links with Europe through ANSE conferences and AGM

Current

- national learning community
- advancing supervision across a range of professions - coaching
- SAI is a growing organisation both in vision and in number.
- meeting for all members on Nov. 22nd

Theme: The Way Forward

The Way Forward

- Strengthen links in Europe ANSE
- Raising public awareness around supervision
- Pastoral Conference Nov. 7th/8th 2008

Supervision : Quality in Ministry

Dr. Michael Carroll

www.milltown-institute.ie

- SAI Conference May 10th 2008

Best Wishes and congratulations to ANSE on their 10th Anniversary from the Supervisors Association
of Ireland